B. O. S. T. O. N. April 26, 1773.
From DRAPER's last Thursday's Paper.
Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in London, dated Feb. 20, 1773, to his Correspondent in Boston.
"Governor Hutchinson is in high Estimation amongst the most sensible Men here; and notwithstanding the Attempts of his Enemies, his Reputation daily encreases, as every Letter that comes from him to the Ministry is replete to the Province, for which he is the greatest and most powerful Advocate."

TO THE FREE ELECTORS OF THE Massachusetts-Bay, vid pa. 128

By Friends and Brethren in one common Cause, WE have now again an Opportunity to exercise our Right of nominating one Branch of the Legislature of this Province:—the only Legislature to which as spirited Freemen we ought to allow Jurisdiction over us, because it is the only one in whose Creation we have any Voice.
Laudably as you have improved this elective Advantage for several Years past, I cannot rest easy without attempting to excite you to double Watchfulness on the present. Instead of collecting a Variety of Motives to stimulate you, I shall confine myself almost to a single Article; in Hopes, however, that it will have the full Weight it merits;—the Weight of a Thousand other Arguments.
HUTCHINSON still has Possession of the PROVINCIAL CHAIR.
He has been repeatedly delineated to us as utterly independent of any Check from the other two Branches of our Government; as disunited from our common Interest; in CONDITION a Despot, a Tyrant: Whether he is such also in INCLINATION and CONDUCT, you are all, I apprehend, competent Judges. The Truth of the Picture, which has been drawn of him, has been confirmed by his Majesty's Council, and the Honorable House of Representatives. These have remonstrated against the Violation of our Rights by that fatal Innovation,—an independent first Magistrate: And, though nine Weeks have been found a Space of Time fully sufficient to our vile malicious Enemies for the Importation of fresh Injuries and Insult from Great Britain, yet nine Months are too little for the Procurement of a single Line of Answer to our angust Representative Assembly.
Our past Delegates have formed Resolves respecting our Rights, Remonstrances against the Infringement of them, and Petitions for a just Restitution. We are now, my Brethren, to consider whether it is not high Time to elect a Body that will enter upon a more efficacious Viadica-tion. The long winding Channels which have been pursued are the very ones marked out by our Enemies and luke-warm Friends; while a Course more worthy of the Genius of Freemen has been untried. In the Interval of dilatory Proceeding we become familiarized to Abuse, and the new fangled Possessor of the Chair seems really to have acquired even some Degree of just Authority from the too long Sufferance of the other Branches.

You have generally, my Friends, expressed your Abhorrence of an Attempt to new-mould the Judges of our Superior Court, and I believe it has been understood that you absolutely would not submit to such an Event. Will not the Vigor of your Proceedings in that Case, when compared with your Patience in a similar one, give Room to think that you are not Enemies to the Principle upon which such unconstitutional Changes are attempted, but only to some ill Consequences that appear suddenly inevitable?

Is our acting first Magistrate simply independent of the people for his Support? Is he not deeply interested against us, and sedulous in the Propagation of Doctrines, which reduce us to the Condition of Slaves? I may add, is he not vigorous in the Promotion of Measures destructive to our Rights and Property? I think it is plain he is from the Paragraph preceding this Address.
Therein we are told he is in "high Estimation" at London. Can common Sense suppose this Esteem is founded upon his seeking Redress of our imaginary Grievances? which are the only ones we have, according to his declared System of Government; and with the Redress of which is necessarily connected the Annihilation of that Check of Extortion from which his own large Income is drawn. We know that our Enemies only have been effeminated, pensioned, knighted; while our Friends have been treated with the same Neglect which our Remonstrances and Petitions have hitherto undergone. He has declared our Felicity to be dependent upon the Acceptance and Continuation of his debasing political System.
May he not then be justly said, by the Brethren of his own Principles, to be our "greatest and most powerful Advocate," while he is promoting to his utmost Ability the very Plan, which our Town and the Council and House have proved unjust, and fraught with sure Destruction?

We are to chuse Representatives to transact our public Concerns with such a Man. Let us therefore seek for Those of a truly independent Spirit, Whom neither the actual Possession, nor lavish Promises of any Kind of Commissions can bend to betray us. After a Term of silent Confusion, our Enemies are again lifting up their Heads. The late Proceedings of the Generality of the Freemen of this Province are "ridiculed, and termed the hasty Product of Jealousy, subversive of all Government whatsoever. I should not really be surprized at the Progress of Insolence so far as to renew the old Order of Re-ascending."

Wherefore, my dear Friends, encrease your former Vigilance, and may double Success crown your Attention.
AN ELECTOR, 1773.

To the impartial Public.

As my Conduct towards Mr. Morgan has been much censured, I beg Leave to offer a Number of Facts, which I'm thoroughly convinc'd will alter the Opinion of every prejudic'd Person, and point out to them that I'm the only injured Man.—On Mr. Morgan's first arrival here, Mr. W. F. W. a Gentleman belonging to the Navy apply'd to me, and ask'd me to employ him as a Clerk, on which I told him, if he was capable to play either 6 or second Fiddle in the Concert, I could do it; accordingly Mr. W. F. W. desir'd him to call on me and convince me of his Capacity, which he did. After which I inform'd Mr. W. F. W. that I did not employ him, and that he should be employ'd as soon as the Concert was open'd, and should receive a good Fit of his Assistance. Soon after this I receiv'd a Line from Mr. Morgan, acquainting me he was in the Country of a Sheriff, and beg'd I'd come to his Room at Mr. Bennett's, which was immediately comply'd with. When I got there, I found Mr. Bennett had taken him for Board, and would not discharge him without I'd give my Note for the Money payable in a fortnight. I being loth to do it, as he was a Stranger, and Mr. W. F. W. if he'd sign a joint Note with me for the Money, which was done in Order to prevent his being committed to Prison. At this Time Mr. Morgan, as may at least be supposed, was short of Cash, and much in want of Friends—a deplorable Situation indeed! Friendless and Moneyless; he really appear'd to be in the utmost Distress, which excited great Pity in me. To be concise, I took him to my House, and let him with the best of my Table afforded, in consequence of this the strictest Friendship was promis'd on his Side. I introduc'd him to my Friends, and on my Account they assist'd him, till his Character became so obnoxious that they wou'd do it no longer. During the whole of this Time, which was upwards of six Months, I continued to support him with Board and Money; he then having an Opportunity of doing something for himself, by going to Newport, desir'd a Letter of Recommendation from me, which was readily granted, the Contents of which got him into Business, that brought him in at the Rate of £150 Sterling per Annum, but he being imprudent soon lost his Business and Friends, and was oblig'd to quit Newport, and secrete himself in the Country, without Money or Friends once more. About a Week after his Elopement, I receiv'd a Letter from him begging me for God's Sake to come to him at Mr. Robinson's in Doverchester. This greatly surpris'd me, as I did not believe the Report of his leaving Newport; however, I went & found him there. I told Mr. Robinson for entertaining him, and once more I was his Friend, by endeavouring to get a small Subscription for him to go to Carolina, but fail'd in the Attempt, as one said they wou'd not give such a Fellow a Farthing, another damn the Rascal, a third his Crime is so black he ought not to be noticed by any Man: Upon which my Eyes being open'd, I found it wou'd not do for me any longer to support him, lest the World should think I justify'd his Conduct; however he'd him to a little Cash, and sent him off. After which he went to Portsmouth, and again got into good Business, and might have continued to till this Day, if he had behav'd like a Gentleman; but being oblig'd to quit that Place, he once more return'd here, and call'd in my House in the Evening, and told me if I did not employ him he shou'd lead Mr. Property's Concert against me; I having Company, and finding him not in a Capacity to talk with, desir'd he wou'd let me know when he lodg'd, and I'd call and talk with him in the Morning; thus he decid'd, and went off leaving me in the dark. This happen'd on Friday Evening, and I never heard any Thing of him till I read Monday's Paper, and found he'd come to assist Mr. Property against me, although he had repeatedly declar'd he never wou'd perform against me on account of my great Friendship towards him. But to come to the Point, this said Morgan being indebted to me ever since the Year 1770, and finding him to be ungrateful, requested my just Due, and desir'd he would settle with me and pay the Balance, or at least give Security for it, which he absolutely promis'd he'd do the next Day before Mr. Robert Williams, but it was not done. Again I requested, and he promis'd. Finally I desir'd Samuel Quincy, Esq; to take my Account and endeavour to settle the Matter with him in private, and by no Means to issue a Writ till he'd try'd every gentle Method to have it settled, which Mr. Quincy did, and receiv'd Mr. Morgan's Promise to settle, but to no Purpose, for he never call'd on Mr. Quincy agreeable to his Word. The Day before the Concert I desir'd Mr. Property to let Mr. Morgan know I'd be glad he'd settle with me, as I did not want to disturb him, but Property turn'd it off by saying Mr. Morgan had an Account against me. The Day after the Concert Day, I sent my Brother to Mr. Morgan and inform'd him if he'd call on me & settle his Account I'd take Mr. Property's Note for the Money payable in six Weeks or two Months; and that if he did not call and speak to me or Mr. Quincy he might depend there would be a Writ out against him immediately, which I think was Notice sufficient for him to keep out of the Way. It appears by his Behaviour he determin'd not to settle, tho' he promis'd he would, and saw me in the street but never call'd to speak to me about the Matter, and never call'd at Mr. Quincy's agreeable to his last Promise; but in an insulting Manner paraded the Street several Times, as tho' he bid Defiance to the Officer that had the Writ. Now I appeal to all unprejudic'd Persons if this was unpolite Behaviour to a Man who has acted so ungrateful a Part. Further, so far from my being desirous of hindering the Company that attended at Mr. Property's Concert on the 22d Instant, of Mr. Morgan's Performance, that I desir'd the Officer Mr. Otis, if he cou'd not get Bail, to discharge him, and I'd pay Cost, as I desir'd an ill-natur'd Action. For further Particulars of my gentle Behaviour to Mr. Morgan, I refer any Gentleman who may be desirous of hearing it, to Samuel Quincy, and Benjamin Underley, Esq; and Mr. Joseph Otis, Junr. D. Sheriff.

THE People in the Country have observed of late an unusual Silence among the Tories; even Draper's Paper, the Vehicle for Tories, has not contained many Libels against Liberty and the People, since the last Session of the General Court; but we hear by Draper's Paper this Week, that the miserable Tories begin to fire their Pop-guns again: however the Thunder of the Artillery of American Freedom will soon silence the poor Wretches.

We who live in the Country attend greatly to the Reasoning of our Right Honorable House of Representatives, and we think they have demonstrated to the clear Conviction of every wise Man, that the British Parliament has no Right to make Laws for the Inhabitants of America—and that such a Right in Parliament as is contended for by the Enemies of America, destroys every "Idea of Freedom and Property" in this Country, and places all the Americans in a State of Vassalage.

If the Advocates for the Supremacy of Parliament over the Americans, can show how that is consistent with the Freedom of the Americans and the Rights of Mankind, let them do it—or be forever silent, and trouble the World no more with their Nonsense.

BOSTON, April 26.

Mr. Draper's Correspondent in last Thursday's Gazette, seems much concern'd that "some Persons are artfully endeavoring to make the good People of this Province believe that his Excellency our Governor is their Enemy." Be it so; but if the "Man of Probity" is so well able to ascertain himself of the Truth of what he has written to the Ministry and others, why does he not demonstrate it to the good People of this Province, that his Excellency our Governor is their FRIEND?

A sorrowful Accident happened Wednesday Afternoon, at Chateaufort, a young Man named Nazro, Son of Mr. Nazro of this Town, Barber, fell from the Top of a Mast of a Vessel upon the Deck, whereby his Skull was broke and died instantly.

Last Friday we had another Specimen of the Insolence of Office, when R. Parker, big with a Writ of Assistance, presumed to break open several Warehouses on the Long Wharf, on Pretence that he had Information of Counterband Goods being lodged there, which was not the Case, we say on Pretence, for its only for a dirty Fellow to be induced to tell such an Officer, that there is seizable Goods in any Stores, and they will be immediately broke open and exposed; nay it is said Mr. Searcher boasted that he had a Right to make as free with our Bed Chambers—thus we see what a Monster in this Writ of Assistance, is intrusted to the keeping of the petty Officers of the Navy as well as the Custom-House, and the Wisdom of those Provinces who have not suffered such a Monster of Monsters to prowl about their Streets for Prey.—As most of the Men of War had lately fail'd for Halifax, it is thought this wanton and affrontive Behaviour was with Design to excite an Opposition in the Trade, and so a Pretence for the Return of those Guarda Cosas.

It is said the Increase of Sheep has been such for several Years past, that there is now the greatest Stock of Wool in the Luffs in and near Boston that ever was known at this Season of the Year.

Mr. Barnes and Co.
Please to insert this in your next, and you will oblige your humble Servant.

Mr. Henry Barnes came into Marlborough, and set up distilling cyder. After he had been there some years he apply'd to the Selectmen to appropriate him for a Retailer; the Selectmen refused to appropriate him. After some time he apply'd to the Selectmen again, and told them that he would distill the rum he sold, and as tis the custom for distillers of rum to be retailers, the Selectmen approbated him, expecting he would distill all the rum he sold, but he did not answer their expectation in distilling the rum he sold, and he went on and retail'd till the people in the town thought his retailing was a damage to the town, for reasons which would not be counted a piece of prudence in me to tell the Public. In the year 1770, the Selectmen not only did not approbate Mr. Barnes, but wrote against him, and four of the Selectmen, viz. Col. John Weeks, Mess. Peter Bent, Abraham Rice, and Winslow Brigham, appeared at the time of granting Licences, with a number of witnesses, if there was occasion, to prove the facts which they had alleged against Mr. Barnes, that he might not obtain a licence. The Selectmen employ'd Mr. Dana, & Mr. Barnes employ'd Mr. Attorney to get a licence for him. I have heard there is policy in war. Mr. Attorney never moved for licence for his client till night, when the Justices were gone, that there was but eight Justices on the Bench that gave judgment. Mr. Dana's plea was, that the Selectmen had not approbated Mr. Barnes, but wrote against him; and they could not by law licence him. Mr. Attorney never denied it, but went on with a mighty harangue, and boldly, though ignorantly said, that the Selectmen wrote against Mr. Barnes because he was a Churchman and an IMPORTER. Mr. Dana let drop he could prove the facts; and the Bench was ask'd whether the proof should be produced, and it pass'd in the affirmative. The Selectmen and witnesses were sworn; one declared he was at Mr. Barnes's one night, and there was a company sitting drinking and playing cards; another swore he was at Mr. Barnes's another night, and there was a company that had drink time after time till one was forc'd to be carried home. In short, it was swore that Mr. Barnes sold drink to be drank in his house as free as though he kept tavern. And when the affair came to a decision, as I told you above there were but eight Justices upon the bench that gave judgment, four says, and four says; the says were Esq; Livermore of Waltham, Esq; Buckminster of Framingham, Esq; Whiting of Concord, and Esq; Hunt of Watertown; and the yeas were Esq; Jones of Weston, Esq; Haven of Framingham, Esq; Prescott and Esq; Cummings of Concord; and Esq; Mason ask'd whether he should go on the bench and give judgment? he was told no: He then said he had considered of it well, and according to law Mr. Barnes ought to have licence: when every person that he gives licence to is forc'd to have two bondsmen, and they promise that he shall keep good rule and order; when the Selectmen had but just before proved that Mr. Barnes had not kept good rule and order: So that I think if the Justices were right, the Selectmen and Witnesses went home with no better character than perjured persons. The next year, before the time of licensing, Mr. Mason sent to the Selectmen to send who they approved of to be innholders and retailers. The Selectmen wrote back that they approved of Col. Abraham Williams, Mr. Cyprian How and Mr. Abner Cranston to be innholders; and disapproved of Mr. Barnes, to be a Retailer, because they tho't his retailing was a damage to the Town. Then there was a Letter sent to Mr. Mason, the Superscription was To Thaddeus Mason, Esq; Clerk of the Peace. The contents of it was as follows.

Mr. Mason,
IF it is not law that you should have the approbation of the Selectmen to direct you who to licence, why do you trouble yourself and posture the Selectmen to send down whom they approved of to be innholders and retailers? But if it is law that you should have the approbation of the Selectmen to direct you who to licence, why do you fly right in the face of law, not only to licence those who have not the approbation of the Selectmen, but likewise those the Selectmen write against, and are at the trouble and cost of having down evidences and proving the facts alleged against them, which was the case the last year? But as Eliaha told the king of Israel, Surely were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, I would not look toward thee, nor see thee: So were it not that I would not slight our privileges, and defy the law, I would not approbate one person this year; but on the contrary, as I would make use of our privileges while we have them, we approve of Col.

Abraham Williams, Mr. Cyprian How, and Mr. Abner Cranston, to be innholders; but disapprove of Mr. Barnes to be a retailer, because we think it is a damage to the town; but Esq; Jones, Esq; Haven, Esq; Prescott, Esq; Cummings and Esq; Mason, knows so much better who is fit for a retailer in Marlborough, than the Selectmen, and Esq; Livermore, Esq; Buckminster, Esq; Whiting and Esq; Hunt, that I expect Mr. Barnes will be licenced again this year; and I don't know but that ten more, if they make application for it. And now, Sir, don't you believe there is a day coming, when we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, to give an account of all the deeds done in the body, whether they are good or evil: And if at this grand assize it should be demanded of you, why you who were put in authority to execute the laws, and vested with a power to punish the breakers of them, and to pay to little regard to the law as to break it yourself? I say, if such a demand should be made to you, what answer you will give in justification of your self, God and your own conscience knows: I know of none. But it seems you must stand speechless with horror, and be ready to join with the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, who shall call to the rocks and mountains to fall on them, and screen them from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the lamb. And that you may repent of your past transgression, and do better for the future, that this may not be your unhappy case, is the sincere desire of your well-wisher.

Hezekiah Maynard, (One of the Selectmen for Marlboro' this Year.
And this to be communicated to the other four Justices of the fraternity in particular, and to the whole Bench in general, if you please.

Mr. Mason made use of the liberty that was given him, and communicated it to his brethren; but it seems to me, that the worships Justices wanted business, to engage in an affair that did not belong to them; for they sent a Sheriff the last day of service for November court, and left a Summons at my house, which was for me to appear at the next Inferior Court to be holden at Charlestown, to shew cause, if any I had, why a Writ of Attachment should not come out against me, for my contempt of said Court. I freely confess I should not have been more surprised to have been summoned to appear to answer for murder. And not being brought up at the feet of Gamaliel, and knowing my imbecility to answer to so high a crime as contempt of authority, I apply'd to Josiah Quincy, Esq; who undertook for me. When the Court came on, the Superior Court sitting at Boston, Mr. Quincy could not attend. I moved for a continuance to March Court, which was granted, for which I was oblig'd to the Justices. I went to March Court, the case came on; my Attorney told me if I was ask'd any question, to say nothing but not guilty. I was ask'd whether I wrote that Letter, I said not guilty. Then I was ask'd whether I sent that letter, I reply'd not guilty. And thus ended my heinous crime of Contempt of Authority.

And now for conclusion, when the wicked Benjamites had forc'd the Levite's Concubine to death, he took a knife and laid hold on his Concubine, and divided her, together with her bones into twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Israel, they seemed to be cast into a stupor; and it was so that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt unto this day: Consider of it, take advice and speak your minds. So was it ever heard that a Selectman was ever summoned to appear at court to answer for contempt of authority, for telling five Justices that they knew better who was fit for a Retailer in Marlborough, than the Selectmen and four worthy Justices besides. I say, was there ever such a thing heard of since our forefathers came out of England. I desire all my fellow subjects to consider of it, take advice, and speak their minds, whether the Justices ought not to pay me my cost. And in so doing they will oblige their most obedient and humble, though injured servant.
